

Annick Tremblay

Social Economy Agent

Annick Tremblay is a Native of the Mashteuiatsh community. Her academic background is quite diversified with her university studies in primary and early childhood education, Aboriginal tourism and business start-up.

Annick drew on her expertise in project development and community mobilization, through her extensive experience working with First Nations. Her career path and know-how make her a versatile and strongly engaged person.

Annick served as Coordinator of the Musée huron-wendat for eight years. She was also the Youth Regional Coordinator at the Assembly of First Nations of Quebec and Labrador (AFNQL), where she developed a keen interest in social economy. She further got involved in the organization of the 2017 and 2019 editions of our StartUP Nations event.

In order to share her expertise with our clientele, she enthusiastically joined the team of the FNQLEDC as a social economy agent, in March 2019. Annick is mandated to help and support the community economic development agents and organizations in processes of social and collective entrepreneurship.
