Social Economy Advisor

Originally from the North of France, Marie Hanquez holds a Master's degree in Business Administration from Université du Québec à Montréal (UQAM), as well as a certificate in accounting from Université Laval.

Her varied professional experience has allowed her to work in environmental management and in verification in both the private and public sectors. Marie is passionate about sustainable development and social impact, having developed an expertise in social economy with the Corporation de développement économique communautaire (CDEC) in Québec City. This enabled her to use her skills in financial analysis, governance, and market research to assist collective enterprises (NPOs and cooperatives) in multiple activity sectors.

During her participation in the initial First Nations Social Economy Gathering, organized by the First Nations of Québec and Labrador Health and Social Services Commission (FNQLHSSC) in 2017, Marie had the opportunity to discover the vitality and diversity of Indigenous social economy enterprises.

With much enthusiasm, she joined the FNQLEDC in 2020 to pursue the promotion of the social economy model within the communities. Convinced that collective projects are driven by passionate people wanting to meet a need in their community, she ensures support for collective entrepreneurs at each stage of their project's development.
